A STUDY OF WITCHCRAFT

Camera West visits a witches' coven in Britain's New Forest and interviews England's most famous practising witch, Sybil Leek, on Part 1 of a two-part study of witchcraft, Circles of Power, to be telecast on CBC-TV on consecutive Wednesdays, Sept. 2 and 9.

Part 1 deals with the history of witchcraft in Europe, recreates portions of a famous witchcraft trial in England in the early 17th century, and shows Sybil Leek leading a modern witches' coven in ancient ceremonies never before photographed.

Between the 13th and 17th centuries in Europe, the practice of witchcraft was illegal and its exponents were brought to trial. The penalty for the guilty was death at the stake.

The famous Lancaster trials in England will be recalled on Part 1 with "The Examination of Elizabeth Sowtherns" in 1613, a dramatization based on actual transcripts of that trial. The woman was accused of making a pact with the devil and causing the deaths of John Robinson and Henry Hytton. The cast includes Barbara Tremain as Elizabeth; Sam Payne and Brian Butcher as prosecutors.

Part 1 concludes with the Sybil Leek interview and the scenes filmed at the present-day witches' coven. Throughout the interview, Sybil's raven is perched on her arm, interjecting his own squawking commentary. The witch Sybil talks about witchcraft today and some of the cures she claims to have affected on hopeless cases.

On Part 2, to be telecast Sept. 9, Circles of Power tells the story of witchcraft, Indian rituals and spiritualism as evolved and practised in North America. A dramatization of a witchcraft trial in Salem, Massachusetts, in 1692, concerns John Proctor, accused by three girls of the community, aided by the testimony of Proctor's maid, Mary Warren. This enactment is based on trial transcripts.

Also included on the second program are film sequences showing the rituals of North American Indians, notably the tribes of British Columbia and the Pacific northwest, and a discussion of the practices of tribal "shamans" or witch doctors.

Circles of Power was researched and written by Peter Haworth, photographed by John Seale and edited by John Fuller. Michael Rothery is producer-director. Camera West is a CBC Vancouver production.

Pen Points To Personality

EDITOR'S NOTE: Pam has been accepting specimens of handwriting, for analysis, through the office of VOXAIR. At this time she has about sixty samples in her basket and this should take approximately ten weeks to clear. For the present time, therefore, we will not accept any further handwriting samples, but if the demand is strong and Pam is willing we will accept letters again in November.

A Word On Signatures

Many people have asked me: "If I write for you anonymously, do not see my real signature. Isn't this the most important thing?" I thought I would answer this question in print. The signature is important, but not nearly as important as is commonly thought. What the handwriting shows a man as he is, or as others see him, the signature shows him as he sees himself, or as he would like to be. If your signature is much like your writing, then you are pretty natural, have a fair estimation of yourself and are reasonably satisfied. If the signature is large, has more flourishes, is more complicated, maybe you overestimate yourself or would like to be more of a big-shot! The reverse also applies: a small unadorned signature shows self-depreciation. So now you know, roughly speaking anyway, and meantime we'll leave things on an anonymous basis, unless perhaps you particularly request otherwise, and avoid possible embarrassment!

"Bugs"

Don't worry, there will be no flies on you! You show plenty of maturity for your age, but you still have a little way to go. There is no doubt you will be a keen business man, for you show organizing and executive ability, original and creative ideas and the ability to make decisions quickly, plus sharp ability to make a bargain! However you still need to develop a little more "push" and overcome the tendency to become discouraged by setbacks. You are sensitive and try to cover up your mistakes, at the same time feeling pride in material achievements. You are willing to learn, and both inquisitive and observant about everything, and have an adventurous spirit and great imagination. You are an idealist, and have strong spiritual faith, as a person you are affectionate and friendly and have a good sense of humour, so how can you fail to go far?

"Just Grant"

You're a pretty easy-going guy, flexible, friendly, sincere and unruffled. You are modest and unaffected, moderate in your habits and manage money well, although you are generous with your friends. At work you organize well and carry out your tasks in a methodical and orderly manner, have patience and good concentration, listen attentively and are willing to follow the rules. Nobody could say you are not conscientious, but you are not likely to go looking for work after hours, for you are not very ambitious and are easily bored. You are young, and may well develop ambition. When you "catch fire" you have great possibilities!

"Katrina"

I think you want to find out about the "real you", as you put it, because you have not yet found a great deal that really interests and satisfies you. Something catches your interest and you give it a try, but you build up, and then you become bored with it quickly. You are proud with it gallantly until you have accomplished what you set out to do, but you feel let down. In your relationships with others you are considerate and sincere, but because you are so sensitive, you may feel you have been let down in the past, or possibly taken advantage of financially. You are on the defensive as a result. Much of this feeling you direct to yourself, for you are generous and have plenty of courage and a philosophical outlook. You have a good sense of humour, which carries you through right side

"Trixie"

You have a very keen mind and a knack of minding your own business and getting on with the job. You are a good organizer, flexible of thought and able to express yourself well. You are observant, curious and critical, although you do not openly criticize others, you are particular and exacting in that you do. Your good management undoubtedly extends to the handling of money, you are resourceful and make the most of what you have, but you are generous and have a warm, kind nature. You are friendly and like to go out and have fun, but you are rather shy and reserved. There are signs that you are not entirely satisfied with the state of affairs, it is, but are resigned to it. (Are you looking for a transfer, maybe?)

WINNIPEG YWCA FALL & WINTER CLASSES

The Winnipeg YWCA announces that all programs and services will continue in the Webb Place building (just one block north of the Bay) until the end of December. At that time the building will be vacated to make way for demolition, and construction of the new YWCA.

Arrangements are presently being made for a central location in the downtown area to provide office and some program space during the rebuilding period. The YWCA also will move out into the community, operating programs in Brooklands, Charleswood, East and North Kildonan, Fort Garry, Fort Rouge and Transcona.

Complete information about suburban locations, program dates and times, as well as the address of the YW's temporary downtown home will be announced later.

A full program of keep fit, swimming and special interest groups will be offered this fall. The new program schedule is now available and will be mailed upon request to the YW registrar.

A new Business Girls Club, for young women 18 to 30 years, will meet every second Thursday evening. Included in the program will be keep fit exercises, trips on the town, guest speakers, parties, films, discussions and service projects.

For women only, the schedule lists such perennial favourites as Personality Workshop, Madame Chairman, dressmaking, judo, and a variety of keep fit and swimming classes.

YW Neighbors in the suburbs will resume meetings the week of October 1, enabling the childbound housewife to take part in exercise and study-discussion programs in her own neighborhood. Groups presently meet in Charleswood, East Kildonan, Fort Garry, St. James, St. Vital, Transcona, and the City of Winnipeg.

Open to men and women are instruction in bridge, ceramics, drawing and painting, modern and Latin dance, and English for newcomers. The International Club, which meets Sunday afternoons, welcomes men and women, Canadian born as well as new Canadian. YW Whirls dances, held alternate Saturday evenings, features popular Winnipeg dance bands.

For the older teentager, 16 and 17 years of age, who wishes to learn more about working with groups, the Leadership Course offers valuable training for camp counselling and playground work. Skill sessions, which include crafts, creative dramatics and other program media, will be held Monday evenings for 10 weeks, beginning September 28.

The YWCA leaders-in-training program has openings this fall for a limited number of girls, 13 to 14 years, in the Junior Leaders' Corps. Instruction is given in all program areas, including gym and swim, and enrollment is based on special application and interview.

The Junior Teen Club, for girls in Grades 6 and 7, will be held Wednesday evenings from 5:00 to 7:15. This friendship group gives the pre-teenager an opportunity to learn new ideas and different viewpoints while participating in service projects, club activities, gym and swim.

A preparatory baby-sitting course, for girls 11 to 13, will be held Wednesday evenings during October and November. Sessions on child care, safety, emergency action, and play activity are presented by YWCA staff and volunteers from community organizations such as the Victorian Order of Nurses, St. John Ambulance Society, day nurseries, and the Winnipeg fire department. This is a practical, informative course which stresses the responsibility of the young sitter toward her charges. A certificate is presented upon successful completion of the course.

On Saturdays, the YW program offers a variety of activities for juniors and teens, including instruction in acrobatic dance, acrobatics, advanced gymnastics and swimming, as well as membership in the My Y Clubs.

Registration for all new members takes place from 12:00 noon to 8:00 p.m., September 16, with the exception of teen and junior gym classes which register from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., September 10. For further information about program or services, please call the YWCA program registrar.

Little League Closing Out Good Season

The RCAF Little League baseball has seen lots of action this year. The organizer was Sgt. Magura from Telecom, and Walter has done a commendable job. W/C McVeigh, recently transferred to TCHQ, is now president of the Stn. Little League ball organization. The coaching staff consists of F/O Gludish and F/O Garneau from 111 KU, Sgt. Dunning from Supply, Cpl. Dyck from 111, Cpl. Ripley of ANS, and Doug McKeil from the Hangar Line. At various times during the season, Mrs. Eileen Skinner (wife of Sgt. Skinner, now at Rivers) gave much of her time in support of the All-Star team. F/L Parker and the Rec. Spec. crew have kept the diamonds in fine shape.

The umpire staff, organized by Cpl. Bourne of Telecom, has made it possible to organize games on Mondays and Wednesdays. Needless to say, without the ump the games would certainly be disorganized.

A special thank you must go to F/L S. Faber of Accounts who, during his leave, was manager of the All-Star team in the picture. The young All Stars met stiff competition down town, and only won one out of the three games played.

This was the first year the RCAF had entered a team in the Downtown League.

Due to transfers, the baseball teams on the Station change constantly. For those parents who don't have too much time to follow baseball, this special note: The Little League motto is "Off the streets and into the diamonds." Let's go out to a game or two and see the boys play. You are paying for a community sport programme and it is up to you to see how the money is spent. Young lads aspire to be great baseball players—Your interest will add incentive to a boy anxious to show his parents he is part of a team. Let's make the parents' motto "Out to the game to watch him play."

I & E, Combines in Finals

Softball semi-finals placed the Combines into the finals after defeating the Officers 6 to 5 in an "anybody's game" last Monday, 17 Aug. Combines came from behind in the latter stages of the game to push across enough runs to win the series.

I & E took the lead with a 12 to 2 decision in the first game of the finals on Wednesday, 19 Aug., as Combines' errors all but gave the win to the opponents. I & E's solid pitching placed a number of strikeouts in the score book and it wasn't until the sixth inning that Combines were able to rally for two runs. I & E are a well balanced team, and it looks as if the Combines will have to come up with a much better effort than the first encounter if they want to win the championship. Their second game is Monday, 24 Aug.

Daily Exercise

What is the state of your health? In an article written by F/L Houston of RCAF Stn. Downsview for the PHOENIX, and reprinted on page 6 of this issue of VOXAIR, a guidance pamphlet for RCAF Recreation activities and issued by the Recreation Branch at AFHQ, the following information was acquired:

First of all, reference material was related from the Department of Physiology, Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory, Camp Lejeune, N.C. Quote "Athletes and Marine Corps recruits share at least one attribute in common: each has chosen to voluntarily submit himself to an arduous physical training regimen designed to bring out the best that is in him and to improve his performance to the maximum of which he is capable. What is clear is that such training programs offer unique opportunities for the trained observer to study the factors which determine optimal and maximal human performance." Unquote—Cpl. Porter, of our own Rec. Staff, surveyed the article and acquired the following information, which seemingly is quite factual and should interest the every-day person to think—just how does this affect me?

Just plain exercising leads to prevention of illness, improved muscle tone, blood circulation, digestion, elimination, endurance, strength, co-ordination, flexibility, posture, grace of body movement, maintains easier breathing, decongestion of lungs, relaxation, stimulation of mental prowess, inducing of sleep, reduction of fatigue, maintaining of weight, retarding of age, lowering of blood cholesterol, lengthening of life by years, prevention of heartburn and ease heart's daily work load.

No exercise leads to: Over weight, body deterioration, softness, hardening of arteries, degeneration of heart and circulatory system, significant cholesterol deposits, malfunctioning of internal organs and chronic diseases.

Instructors Course — Red Cross

The Manitoba Red Cross is tentatively planning two Red Cross Water Safety Instructor courses. The courses will begin in September and will run concurrently on an evening a week until such time as completed. If you are a Senior swimmer and hold a Bronze Medal or equivalent, now is the time to take advantage of such a course. Registration forms are available at the Rec. Centre. Contact Cpls. Schilds or Porter. The courses last two weeks, and may probably will be held on Wednesday evenings at the RCAF pool and Monday evenings at Lipsett Hall.

RED RIVER REELERS

Most people play tennis on tennis courts, and a few who like to be different, Square Dance with them. On Tuesday, September 1st at 8 in the evening, the Red River Reelers, your Station Square Dance club, is holding an outdoor Square Dance on the courts. Everybody is welcome. Admission—ONE DOLLAR BIG SMILE.

PART III IN A SERIES ON NCAA WRESTLING

DUAL MEETS - TOURNAMENTS - SCORING

Dual Meets and Tournaments

At the end of the match the referee will award the match to the wrestler with the largest number of points. Team points will then be added to the victor's team score. In a dual meet a tie score stands for each wrestler's team will receive two team points for his effort. In tournaments, where a victor must be decided, the match will have two 2-minute overtime periods preceded by a 1-minute rest period. If the score is still tied at the end of the overtime, a decision by a committee of three: the referee and two judges.

Dual Meet Team Scoring System

Wrestling is principally an individual combatant sport. Like most individual sports, however, a team scoring system has been devised so that more than individuals are involved in a dual meet. Because of the team scoring system each wrestler is no longer merely fighting for his own benefit but for that of his team. The team score is the all important factor in a wrestling meet. It must be remembered though, that points of the team score are earned by teammates in individual combat with opponent. Following is the summary of the dual meet scoring system. The appropriate points are added to the team score at the conclusion of each match.

Dual Meet Points

Table with 2 columns: Point Type and Points. Includes Fall (Pin), Forfeit, Default, Decision, and Draw (Tie).

The meaning of a Fall, Decision and Draw should be obvious, however, it is doubtful that one would understand the difference between Forfeit and Default. A Forfeit occurs when one opponent fails to appear on the mat. A Default occurs when a wrestler appears on the mat but because of injury is unable to finish a match. A Default can be awarded to the injured wrestler if he was injured because of an illegal hold applied by his opponent. In most cases, however, the Default will be awarded to the wrestler able to continue the match.

$200,000 GOLF BATTLE

Basically, golf is a simple game. From tee to green, the golfer's main concern—apart from losing his temper—is to drop the ball in the cup.

People play golf for many varied reasons: businessmen make important contacts; housewives exchange the latest gossip; and health faddists partake of air and exercise.

Professional golfers, however, play for money, and it all becomes slightly more complex when $35,000 rides on a tricky, three-foot, downhill putt. It makes for an exciting sport—for spectator and player.

The richest and newest annual tournament, the World Golf Championship, will be inaugurated at the end of this month, with CBC television coverage beginning on Sunday, Aug. 30. Play on the final six holes of the $200,000 tournament will be featured.

Most of the leading international golf stars are expected to show up at the Oakland Hills Country Club in Birmingham, Mich., hoping to come away with some part of the jackpot, if not the $35,000 top money.

Almost one-third of the field of 150 golfers will be representing far-off lands such as China, Ireland, Japan, Brazil and Thailand. South Africa's Gary Player, and Australia's Kel Nagle, Canadian Open winner, are also entered.

Leading the large American contingent are top money-winners Tony Lema, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Ken Venturi. Canada's hopes are pinned on Al Balding, George Knudson, Moe Norman and Alvie Thompson.

A new technique in golf reporting will be used for the World Golf Championship telecast. It features a control centre strategically located on the course where announcers can rapidly spot the most interesting developments.

In 1965, the tournament will be played at another United States championship course. The following year the World Golf Championship moves to England, and in 1967 will be held in Canada.

WINNIPEG MAN TO CBC IN LONDON ENG.

Mr. James R. Finlay, Prairie Regional Director of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, today announced the appointment of Mr. Ken Black as CBC Assistant Representative in London, England. Mr. Black will be replaced, as Regional Supervisor of Public Affairs in Winnipeg, by Mr. Jack Hutchinson.

Mr. Black will take up his position in London on October 1st. A native of Winnipeg, Mr. Black, now 38, was educated at the University of Manitoba, where he graduated with an Honors Bachelor of Arts degree. Mr. Black joined the CBC Public Affairs department in Winnipeg in 1957, following a distinguished newspaper career, which included four years with the Winnipeg Tribune, four more with the Winnipeg Free Press, and two years with Reuters News Agency, based in London.

Mr. Jack Hutchinson, 32, was raised in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan; educated at the University of Manitoba, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree, and the University of British Columbia, where he took his Master's degree. He joined the CBC as a radio producer in Vancouver, in 1960 and, after one year's service, left for England, where he attended the University of London's School for Slavonic Studies. He rejoined the CBC in Toronto, in 1962, and has since planned and produced a wide variety of public affairs programs on the CBC radio network.

Sports fans will remember Jack Hutchinson as a fullback with the 1956 and 1957 editions of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. He also wore the uniforms of the Saskatchewan Roughriders and the B.C. Lions, during his football career.

"Accustomed as I am to public speaking," Franklin Pierce Adams, the American newspaper columnist once wrote, "I know the futility of it."

DAILY EXERCISE

F/L W. G. HOUSTON

Medical science says that you start deteriorating at the age of 25. Modern conveniences have not only produced a nation of softies, but have led to serious degeneration of the heart and circulatory system, starting at a younger age than ever before.

Autopsies on troops killed during the Korean war showed hardening of the arteries and significant cholesterol deposits in the bodies of 25 year olds. Internal organs of young people are showing signs of malfunctioning, producing a host of complaints and minor pains and illnesses that used to be reserved for our senior citizens.

What is happening to our people? More than 40 million Americans are significantly overweight. More than half of all deaths are attributed to heart disease. In every physical test made, American children were humiliated by less fortunate but more active children of foreign countries. More than half of our young men are now rejected from military service. According to Dr. Fred Scharz of the American Medical Association, more than 79 million Americans now suffer from chronic diseases—nearly half our total population.

Scientists now agree that one of the main causes of our early degeneration is lack of exercise. The famous Dr. Morris Fishbein, Dean of the American Medical Association, has said that, "We are beginning to learn more and more the role that regular exercise plays in the struggle against the prevention of illnesses and deteriorative diseases."

Leading authorities agree that regular exercise can improve your muscle tone, building power in men and new firmness in women. Heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White says that exercise can improve blood circulation, lessen your chances of developing circulatory diseases, and ease your heart's daily work-load. Exercise can ease breathing and decongest lungs. It can improve your digestion and elimination, according to Dr. Dean Boggert's book, Nutrition and Physical Fitness. Regular exercise allows your body to better utilize food nutrients, and according to Dr. Henry Russek, writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association — can relax tensions and induce sleep. Exercise can stimulate mental processes in young and old, says Dr. Robert E. Shipley of the Lilly Laboratory of clinical Research. It can prevent gastric upset, heartburn, headaches, fatigue, and most other common middle-age complaints, according to Dr. Thomas Cureton Jr., of the University of Illinois.

It can help you to maintain an ideal weight, says Dr. James H. Green of the University of Iowa, and can improve strength, endurance, co-ordination, and flexibility. In women, exercise can improve posture and grace of body movement. In older people, it can retard many signs of aging and can reduce the incidence of degenerative diseases, according to the President's Council of Physical Fitness. For cholesterol-worriers, regular exercise can definitely lower the blood cholesterol level. Used every day, it can help to lengthen your life, by years.

These benefits are the result of countless hours of research in leading Universities and laboratories, reported in authoritative medical journals. This research proves that the body was made to be used—that, if it is not used, it tends to waste away. Don't let this happen to your body— Don't let it happen to your family.

By P. THORMIN

It is rather late in the season to mention the construction fences around the married quarters, especially the MDPRs, but when a new article is in the making, one has to start somewhere. The fences most certainly make for nicer surroundings and add to the appearance of the houses, but certainly leaves a viewer with the thought of childless and petless homes. Usually a fence is put up to contain little ones or wayward pets. Contrary to this, the fences are there to protect the flowers and lawns on which so much time has been spent. If the residents would peruse the Padre's column of last week, perhaps even the littlest annoyance would seem insignificant and the fences would serve their intended purpose.

In the very near future, the Air Force Police are going to have a nasty jumble of shattered glass and bent metal dumped practically on their laps if drivers do not heed the Yield sign which stares them in the face as they leave the Station on Whytefold Road. The urge to beat the oncoming traffic, and taking for granted that a car will turn in at the main gate, spur drivers to wheel out in order to win, hands down, the race for the road. It may be face down with someone, and like the local advertisement, "Death is on the move" death may really find a home spot.

Never underestimate the persistence of children. Especially boys who are determined to construct a four-wheel monstrosity they call a "hot rod."

All summer long I have noticed a group of automobile builders, and on, working away with boards and wheels to construct an MDE 500 special. With layoffs of week on end, the product was finally taken out for a trial run, and promptly fell apart. It took an interested father to come to the aid of the lads, and the roar of breathless excitement is now heard around the concrete track as a driver and his engine, another driver earning his turn at the wheel, careen by the doorway.

If you have people working in you in your section, the usual requests for time off are passed to you with hopes that the request will be granted. Usually it is. I thought I had heard the home brought one lad to me a time off request. It seems they were holding a parade in home town, and he was required to drive the horses which were pulling a float. The request was certainly original, and after sides stopped aching, the Air Force horse driver, parade float, for use of, was granted his wish. All in all, how many can come up with an original tale like that for a week and off?

"The mere apprehension of coming evil has put many in a situation of the utmost danger," wrote Lucan, the Roman poet.

A BIRD'S EYE VIEW OF FLYING WING

Arrivals: Only one arrival last week. F/O Bob Lamb joined us from Rivers. Welcome to ANS Bob.

Departures: There will be a Mug Party tonight (Friday) for five members of ANS. Three will be from Flying Wing and all are on leave. F/Ls Ted Stenton, Norm Leathers, and F/O Ernie Fedak are heading off to civvy street. Ernie and Norm are leaving in mid-September, but we don't have a release date on Ted. Best of luck to the future chaps.

F/O Leo Salminen has been transferred and is going on posting to the Maritime OTU starting on the 27th of September. There should be a Mug Party for Leo in the near future.

Bits 'n pieces: I hear from the grapevine that there will be a fairly large move within Flying Wing quite soon. The Orderly Room will be moving into the present Deputy Chief Pilot's office; the Crew Room will be in the present R; and Coffee and Pubs will be in the Chief Pilot's present office. The Chief Pilot will move into Bill Instead's office and Bill and Marv Nordman will move one office south. The present briefing room will disappear and the present Crew Room will become a Conference Room. Looks like we'll get the old ping pong table back into operation, as well as having a lot more room for the Crew Room.

Standards has had the Dak Questionnaire reprinted and has distributed them to the various Flight Commanders. The correct answers may be obtained from the TC-10, SOP, and EO. A completed questionnaire is in the despatch office so you can compare answers. Standards also has a set of the answers. If you did not get a questionnaire, there are extra copies available in Standards. They are meant for the use of Dak Captains and First Officers mainly, but people scheduled for the OTU can get a copy if they wish.

Flying Wing will be writing the CTS, EO exams on the 15th of September, so now is a good time to start studying. The "Cat" exams will be written on the 16th of September.

There will be an ANS SPORTS DAY on the 18th of September. It's Buff vs. the Students again, and you can put your name down for the different events on the sheets in the Crew Room. Let's have a good turnout from Flying Wing.

Yours truly along with Ted Barnwell and Buff Bisson had a most enjoyable trip down to NORAD Headquarters at Colorado Springs a week and a half ago. We carried W/C Thorpe and a party from CNS down for a meeting with people from NORAD HQ. Hope we'll see more of these trips.

If you want to improve the appearance of your coin collection as I am doing now, just let me know and I will arrange to get you 20 per cent off the retail price on the new and greatly improved blue Whitman folders. I purchased four of them a couple of weeks ago and my coins look a lot neater.

These "Bookshelves" as they are called, are manufactured by the Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wisconsin. Some have two pages, others have three and four pages depending on the coins and their first year of minting. Prices vary with the different Bookshelves because more work is required to process a folder or Bookshelf with four pages. For example the ten cents Canada pieces go into Bookshelf No. 9503 which has four pages and 111 openings for the coins dated 1858 to the present year, retailing for $5.50 but the 2-pagers sell for approximately $3.00.

The backs of the pages have a permanent sheet of transparent cellulose-acetate strips for viewing the opposite side of the coins. On the front of each page there are three sliding strips of acetate for coin insertion. So for the novice and average coin collector, these new blue Whitman Coin Bookshelves are the answer to proper coin viewing and displays.

SERVICE BRIEFS

NOT EVEN A BUGLE TOLLED THE PASSING

VANCOUVER — RCAF Station Vancouver officially ceased to exist without so much as a final bugle call. Once a wartime base employing 1,700 service-men, Station Vancouver will house only a few personnel to refuel planes and handle military passengers. Men and aircraft have been quietly leaving the base over the past month. Most aircraft, including two large helicopters and three Albatrosses used in search and rescue work, have been moved to the RCAF base at Comox.

RMC EXHIBIT — CNE

KINGSTON—Several senior officer cadets from Royal Military College will be attending the Canadian National Exhibition later this month. They will be working at the Canadian Armed Forces display, however. The cadets will display an advanced chemical engineering experiment as part of RMC's exhibit. The overall display this year will reflect the government's decision to modernize defence weapons and systems.

It's bad luck to have thirteen people seated at the table—when you're paying for the dinner.

CLUB 61

By CHUCK McDONALD

"Our friend the Commissioner" Archie Berry gets the name and number of one of our many Club guests.

The photo preceding this article shows us the smiling face of our Club Commissioner, Archie Berry. Old "Arch" or "Pop," as he is often referred to, is a familiar face at the Club every weekend. With his smiling face and ever popular stories, Archie is a familiar sight at the front door. Archie is an old vet, with the heart of a teenager and a sense of humor surpassed by none. In the event you haven't seen him in the past, drop down to "Your Club" and say hello. "Pop" will welcome you with a smile and make you feel like one of the family. Sorry girls, but he is married and has a marvelous family.

Friday the Monkey Golf turned out to be a tremendous success thanks to Doug Nelligan and Gerry Gerow. There were prizes galore and the show was great. John Clarke and John Heaney of Carlings made presentations to some of the winners. Prizes were also presented by Bob Crystal, Jack Bownass and George Crosthwaite. These gentlemen were well received by all participating members and it was guaranteed that they would return. Our own H/PMC F/L Al Campbell also presented gifts of miniature golf clubs to John's Clarke, and Heaney.

The entertainment which followed was far superior to any the Club has had in quite some time. Under the capable hands of M.C. Gus Teague, we saw Jim Lewis with his banjo and stories. The Pogo Boys put on an enjoyable act and had everybody hootin' and hollerin'. The Teague Brothers, Gus and Al, gave us the songs and dances that make people have them back time and time again. It is certain that people are still laughing themselves to tears over their antics. Thanks a million, Doug and Gerry, for a very enjoyable evening which was loved by all.

Saturday night, the Beachcomber dance was a success as far as people were concerned but what happened to the dress? The only people dressed Beachcomber style were Mike and Marg Jones, our Club photographers. Larry and Reissa were in attendance with their records and, as usual, displayed the poise and glamour that brings them back so often. By the way, who was that guy walking around with the Beatle wig all night?

Tomorrow night marks the return of the Commandaires. This is expected to be another enjoyable evening of fine music and dancing. This band is part of the TCHQ Band and are a fine group of musicians.

Don't forget the underprivileged kids will be on the Station Sunday along with the stars of the NHL. For those interested in autographs, for their kids of course, these stars will be in the Club during the early afternoon.

See you at the Club and don't forget to bring your friends. This is the place "where all friends meet."

The children are greeted on arrival with a special treat as if he has chosen to enjoy himself for the day.

Monday, August 30, marked the 10th anniversary of the Club's weather program. Many day, but for the first time the guests of the Club were the women of Club Winnipeg, it was a most exciting and successful day.

The Club, which usually holds its Day for the children and women, was this year it was thought to the women of the Winnipeg area who were privileged as our own women of thought blossom as everybody to see this a day the children's target in some time.

The response for help coming from both St. James and the local fire department in the Winnipeg area. Brought the hot dogs and buns. Old D. potato chips v. Co. Ltd. supplied the candy for these companies along with the children's touch of 'Star' Dan Whitman (C. arrived on the stars of the N.
