13, No. 20.

WINNIPEG, MANITOBA

May 22, 1964

A/M C. R. DUNLAP, CBE, CD

Air Marshal C. R. (Larry) Dunlap was born in Sydney Mines, N.S. on Jan. 1, 1908, and after attending Acadia University and the Nova Scotia Technical College, joined the RCAF in 1928. He was commissioned as a pilot officer on assignment and awarded his pilot wings the following year.

For a number of years prior to the war Air Marshal Dunlap was engaged in the RCAF's aerial photography work. He later specialized in air armament and attended courses in Britain. At the outbreak of war in 1939 he was serving as Director of Armament at Air Force Headquarters, Ottawa, an assignment he filled for three years.

In 1942 he was posted overseas to become Commanding Officer at RCAF Station Leeming, Yorkshire, a station in 6 RCAF Bomber Group. In 1943, several months before the Sicilian campaign he went to North Africa to command a bomber wing comprising three Wellington squadrons. He directed establishment of RCAF bases in Tunisia, and received special commendation from Air Chief Marshal Tedder and General Doolittle for the notable successes of his wing in carrying out strategic and tactical bombing in Sicily, Italy and Sardinia.

Returning to Britain, he took command of a medium bomber wing engaged in daylight operations as part of the newly-formed Tactical Air Force. He flew on several operational trips while commanding the wing, which, besides outstanding successes against German V-1 and V-2 sites, was engaged in support of Allied ground forces. He was awarded the American Silver Star in recognition of his work in supporting USA ground forces. In January 1945, on his promotion to Air Commodore he took over command of 64

A/M C. R. SLEMON TO RETIRE

Statement by the Honourable Paul Hellyer

Air Marshal C. Roy Slemon, 60, Deputy Commander of the North American Air Defence Command (NORAD) with Headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colorado, will retire from the RCAF this summer after more than 41 years of service to his country.

At this time I would like to express my personal appreciation, and that of the Government, to Air Marshal Slemon for the manner in which he has upheld the traditions of the RCAF and the good name of Canada during his four decades of service, which stretch from early Arctic Exploration to his present assignment at NORAD, a post which he has held since 1957.

In his responsible position of Deputy Commander in Chief of NORAD, Air Marshal Slemon has shown leadership, judgment and ability of the highest order, and his dedication to service and country is an example for all Canadian service personnel.

Replacing Air Marshal Slemon at NORAD will be another Canadian officer with vast experience in defence matters, both at home and abroad. He is Air Marshal C. R. (Larry) Dunlap, 56, the present Chief of the Air Staff.

Air Marshal Dunlap is well qualified for his new appointment at NORAD, and brings to that post more than 36 years of service with the RCAF. He has held a number of responsible command positions both in Canada and Overseas, one of which was Assistant Chief of Staff at Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers Europe, a post which he held before his appointment as Chief of the Air Staff in 1962.

Base of 6 RCAF Group at Middleton St. George, Yorkshire.

He returned to Canada in May of that year to become Deputy Air Member for Air Staff at AFHQ. In 1946 he attended the Bikini atomic bomb tests as a representative of the RCAF, and before his appointment as Air Member for Air Plans in October 1948, attended the National War College in the United States for one year.

In November 1949 Air Marshal Dunlap assumed the duties of Air Officer Commanding Northwest Air Command, with headquarters at Edmonton, Alta., and was transferred to Air Defence Command, St. Hubert, Que., in June 1951 to fill a similar position.

He was appointed Commandant of the National Defence College, Kingston, Ont., in August 1951, a post he held until August 1954 when he was appointed Vice Chief of the Air Staff. In June 1958, he took over as Deputy Chief of Staff Operations at Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE), where he was later appointed Assistant Chief of Staff.

In April 1962 the Minister of National Defence announced the appointment of Air Marshal Dunlap as Chief of the Air Staff, to be effective September 15, 1962.

A/M C. R. SLEMON, CB, CBE, CD

Air Marshal C. Roy Slemon, the only serving member of the Air Force's "originals", has the distinction of being able to look back over continuous service in the RCAF since its creation in 1924.

Born in Winnipeg in 1904, he graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in engineering from the University of Manitoba. He began his service career in the Army's Officer Training Corps, reaching commissioned rank of Lieutenant. In 1923 he joined the Canadian Air Force, and won his pilot wings in 1924. His early service life included many years flying in the Arctic and sub-Arctic on exploratory and air mapping operations.

He took the year's course at the RAF Staff College in England shortly before the war and following this served two years on coastal operations, rising to command Western Air Command on the Pacific Coast.

In 1942 he went overseas to organize the all-Canadian Bomber Group and for two and a half years was second-in-command of this force of fifteen heavy bomber squadrons which during this time reached the peak strength of over 24,000 personnel. Following a short period in command of the Bomber Group, Air Marshal Slemon was appointed Deputy Air Officer Commander-in-Chief of the RCAF Overseas for the last few months of the war in Europe.

After the war's end, Air Marshal Slemon served as a member of the Air Council in Ottawa until 1949 when he became the Air Officer Commanding Training Command. In 1953 he was appointed Chief of the Air Staff and relinquished this position on Aug. 31, 1957, to become Deputy Commander - in - Chief, North American Air Defence Command.

MOOSE JAW TO RECEIVE NEW JET TRAINERS

In a few months, the noisy Pratt and Whitney Wasp engine will rasp out its swan-song as the piston-driven aircraft gives way to the CT-114 Tutor and T-33 jet trainers. Because of the more sophisticated jet aircraft to be used in training, additional maintenance and servicing personnel will be required at the base, and it is estimated the present complement of some 200 will possibly remain static. Three of the T-33 aircraft which will be based here arrived Wednesday, and training of Harvard graduates presently on course here, is expected to start on this jet in September if present plans are completed. Tutor jet training is expected to begin in January of next year, according to Wing Commander Spafford.

WILL NOT CLOSE RCAF STATION, HELLYER SAYS

OTTAWA.—Despite the withdrawal of a transport squadron based there at the end of the year, the Government intends to continue operating RCAF Station Downsview, Defence Minister Paul Hellyer told a North York delegation yesterday. One of the RCAF's major supply depots will continue to be located there, as will two auxiliary squadrons.

D-DAY: THE CANADIANS

On Sunday, May 24, CBC-TV's Horizon presents a program marking the 20th anniversary of D-Day and the Allied invasion of Europe. In a series of interviews with veterans, Canadians who were there tell the story of the landing as they saw it. Cameras visit the Normandy beaches and landmarks to see how they look today.

Mrs. O'Leary

Publicity on Cow

While your cow is generally credited with kicking up a ruckus that started the great Chicago fire of 1871, it is extremely doubtful whether such incendiary activity would get you any publicity in 1964.

It has been brought to light in a recent RCAF Annual Fire Report that a two-legged animal of supposedly higher intelligence and fleetness of foot than your cow is grabbing all the lime light in this regard.

This species known as the Careless Smoker in one instance cost the RCAF $550,000.00.

You will understand from the above, the necessity that all available space in RCAF journals be utilized in the efforts being made to exterminate the species.

It is therefore regretted that we cannot at this time devote any space to perpetuating the memory of your beloved cow.

In conclusion let it be said that the RCAF would be content to be stuck with one lantern-kicking cow rather than be plagued by an undetermined number of Careless Smokers.

PROTESTANT CHAPEL GUILD

The Ladies of the Protestant Chapel Guild were hosts to the Ladies of the Catholic Chapel Guild following their regular meeting on the evening of May 11th, 1964. Miss Parkin who is a very gracious and entertaining speaker from the Adams Florists presented with the able assistance of Mrs. Anne Leullier a demonstration on floral arranging. All the Ladies found this to be most interesting and educational. May I take this opportunity to thank Miss Parkin and Mrs. Leullier for so kindly sharing her time and knowledge with us. The Protestant Guild Ladies served a very enjoyable lunch at the close of this demonstration.

Catholic Women's League

Our May meeting was very well attended and the Social and Lunch held at the Protestant Chapel Ladies' Guild was enjoyed by all.

Don't forget girls we need your help for our forthcoming Bake Sale to be held June 3rd. The Convenor for this sale is Marg Thompson.

The C.W.L. windup supper is being held next month—place and details to be decided. Further information on this will be announced at Church and in this paper.

Our First Communion and Confirmation service was very beautiful and especially so, as this was performed by our own Bishop Gallagher. A reception was held in Father's quarters the Saturday night preceding the service.

We are all very grateful to know that Father Grant is well and will not have to leave us again.

A CHILD IS POISONED

Speed is essential and mistakes are costly when a child is known to have consumed poison. Complicated instruction are of little use. Here are four simple steps:

1. Dilute the poison by making the child drink water; two cups for children under five, a quart for those older.

2. Make the child vomit in all cases except when there are burns around the mouth. This means the child swallowed a corrosive, such as lye. Vomiting would seriously aggravate burns in the throat and mouth. Avoid vomiting when the victim has swallowed petroleum products such as kerosene, gasoline, furniture polish, cleaning fluids. In such cases, vomit could enter the lungs causing broncho-pneumonia; also avoid it when the child is unconscious or in convulsions. It could choke to death.

Induce vomiting by depressing the back of the tongue with a finger.

3. Call a doctor. Tell him the type of poison if it is known. Follow his instructions.

4. Keep the child warm and give artificial respiration if necessary. If the child is unconscious, take him at once to the nearest hospital. Take along the poison container, label, remaining contents and any vomited material. These will help identify the poison.

Cautions Concocting antidotes may waste precious time. Don't bother with them. Plenty of plain water is effective.

Prevent Poisoning

Lock the medicine cabinet. Drugs, including aspirin, the biggest offender, cause most child poisonings. Keep medicines off bedroom night tables.

Don't keep household chemicals under the sink. Keep them on high shelves where crawling children cannot reach them.

Never transfer a poisonous substance into a common unmarked container such as a cola or milk bottle, drinking glass or pitcher. A child could easily mistake the poison for milk or cola.

JUDO

Dr. Jigaro Kano: our founder, explains Judo this way "the principle of the maximum-efficient use of the mind and body is the guiding or fundamental principle of the techniques of Judo. But it is also something more. The same principle can be applied to the improvement of the human body, making it strong, healthy and useful, and so constitutes physical education.

Judo, to most people, brings to mind death-dealing blows on the neck or 100 lb weaklings throwing goliaths over their shoulder with a flick of the wrist. Both impressions are erroneous. It is neither magic nor trickery although it is sometimes a means by which the weak can defeat the strong. Judo is a sport which may be engaged in by ordinary people, both young and old, male or female. There are no secret short cuts to proficiency. Progress depends on the individual and the teacher.

Training

Judo is broken down into two major categories of training which are:

1. Nage-Waza — Throwing Techniques.
2. Katame - W a z a — Grappling Techniques.

You might hear of words like strangulation or bone locks. Senior Judoka's are taught these techniques and are also taught to submit when they are applied making them quite harmless when used properly by qualified people.

Judo as a sport

The Kodokan Judo took place first as a martial art and second as a form of physical and mental training. Today Judo, internationally is one of the world's fastest growing sports. Many people still have the wrong idea of Judo and are doing it a lot of harm by spreading misconceptions about it.

Junior Judo Club

For the last two years members from the senior club have volunteered their time to come out to the station and train dependents in the art of Judo for those who wanted to take it. Of course many of the techniques taught to the seniors had to be removed from the training syllabus some of them could be dangerous.

Anyone who would like more information on this subject can obtain it by phoning local 511 and ask for Dick Kensett.

DANISH GYMNASTIC TEAM

On Monday 1 June the world famous Danish Gymnastic Team will be in Winnipeg for an evening performance. Their display will include Rhythmic Gymnastics, Vaulting and Tumbling, Balance Teams and Folk Dances in National Costume. This show will be staged at the Arena. The show is being sponsored by the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. As this group is more concerned with the fitness benefits than with the financial return the price of tickets is exceptionally low. Adults $1.00, students 50c.

However don't let this low price fool you. The Danish Gymnastic Team is selected in the same manner as the personnel of the Russian National Circus. A state opera school picks its top performers to form a team for a world tour. The Danish Gymnasts are "top flight". They will be performing at the World's Fair later this year. This is a top attraction from an entertainment standpoint as well as an outstanding display of physical ability.

Treat yourself and the family to this show.

The Safety Equipment people gave us a run down on the Mae Wests, single and ten man dinghys, plus the survival equipment in them. Now all we need is a couple of sharks in the pool to test the repellent!

A batch of checklists arrived in the Orderly Room last Friday afternoon. There are 100 TC-10s (C-47) and 25 TC-11s (C-45). The checklists are all amended and up to date, courtesy of the Goony Bird's pen and tongue. The TC-11s were reprinted last October and have ALs 1 through 4 included.

Flight Safety: Last Friday the Safety Equipment in the C-45s was changed to the summer load. Four Mae Wests have been installed as well as two sleeping bags and air mattresses. There will be no food of any kind in the a/c. All C-45 drivers might take a look in the a/c to see just where everything is now.

Shut Down: There are a bunch of PIRQ grads due in this week but we don't know for sure who will be staying here and who will be going on survival, so we'll let you know next week when we know.

Well, must go and get the glue off my tongue. Till next week.

Cheers,
The Goony Bird.

KADET KAPERS

By Mick

The weatherman provided us with some beautiful weather for the first long weekend of the summer season and it appears everybody took good advantage of it. A number of cadets headed south of the border to view the air show at the USAF base at Grand Forks. We hear the show was a little disappointing, but worth the trip nevertheless. Al Munro and Bob Pearson set off for Grand Forks, took the wrong highway and arrived at the air show rather later than expected. Next time, let the navigators do the navigating and you stick to the driving.

Terry Burt chose to take a little walk "down the aisle" this weekend and so joined the hallowed ranks of the married personnel. We would like to offer our congratulations to Terry and his new bride and say "welcome" to Patty and of course, her cat! We hope to see you both at the Mess in the very near future.

The patio has now been open for a week or so and with the advent of the recent fine weather and long evenings has been put to good use. However, don't forget that there are regulations that must be adhered to concerning dress on the patio. The dress is casual, but not too casual! A note for the COO—don't forget to fold those umbrellas at the end of the evening.

A reminder to all car owners not to forget the station safety check being run until the end of May. Don't leave it until the last moment and be disappointed when they tell you your car is a wreck!

See you next week.

He is a real old-timer who can remember the day when there were no deductions in his pay until he got home.

Never put poisons in cupboards used for food storage.

Never leave a potentially poisonous substance within a child's reach even for a moment. Children can quickly get pills from purses and drink cleaning fluid while mother's back is momentarily turned.

Check around the house regularly to be sure poisonous items are out of reach. Danger areas are kitchen, bedrooms and bathroom.
