Where Did You Get That Word!

Where Did You Get That Word!

You may be insulting your friends without knowing it—and perhaps getting away with it if they, too, are unaware of the sinister meanings concealed in such harmless words as "pal," "neighbor," or "guy."

"Pal" is a gypsy word meaning brother—or accomplice. In America, a "guy" is any human male, but to Britons a "guy" is an odd, funny-looking character. The word goes back to Guy Fawkes, who in 1605 tried to blow up Parliament.

"Neighbor" literally mean "the boor who lives nigh us!" "Boor" carried no stigma in olden days; it meant simply farmer.

Many common words have changed, even reversed, their meanings—with amusing results. "Silly" once meant good or happy, in the sense of innocent, while "snooty" meant what "fastidious" means: overly fussy and snooty. ("Fastidium" is Latin for anything!) Call a woman a hussy today and she'll slap your face—but a few centuries back "hussy" was just the shortened form of "housewife."

Believe it or not, a "gossip" was once a "God-sib," or a "relative in the sight of God"! The term was applied to godparents who were expected to form a close and intimate relationship with the family whose child they sponsored. From this mood of confiding intimacy, it's not hard to see how the present meaning of "gossip" evolved.

Words come into being in a fascinating variety of ways. Some are imitative of sounds—like "hiss," "bang," "gurgle," "gibberish." Some words are named after men like Dr. Guillotin, who suggested the "guillotine." According to Webster's Third New International Dictionary, an Irish landlord named Boycott gave us that word—by being so harsh and downright ornery that his tenants finally "boycotted" him.

Less logical was Belgian chemist Van Helmont, who in the 17th century saw a mysterious vapor in a glass cylinder and christened it "gas." What led him to originate this name, he couldn't say—except that the formless puffs vaguely reminded him of the Greek word "chaos."

The word "oxygen" was born of a scientific mistake. Because Antoine Lavoisier, the French discoverer of oxygen, thought it was an essential component of all acids, he named the substance from the Greek "oxys," sharp, and gignesthai, "to be born."

One of our most commonly used words was originally a made-up nonsense syllable! The story goes that a man named Daly, of a Dublin playhouse, bet a friend that within 24 hours he could have the whole town talking about a meaningless word. He won the wager—by chalking all over Dublin's walls the letters QUIZ.

Some words are literally nicknames for other, longer words. In this category is the sports "fan" (short for fanatic) . . . the tough "cuss" (for customer) . . . the old "chap" (for chapman, an ancient English word for merchant) and the "mob," an abbreviation of the Latin phrase "mobile vulgus," fickle crowd. "Nincompoop" is a telescoped version of the Latin "non compos mentis," mentally incompetent.

"It's amazing how picturesque some ordinary words turn out to be, upon investigation. "Disaster" is from the Latin for stars; astrologers believed stars had both benevolent and malignant phases, the latter leading to "disaster." "Preposterous," amusingly, is a combination of the Latin "prae," before, and "osterus," behind. "Calculate" is from the Latin "calculi," little pebbles used by the Romans to cast their votes—and reckon up their gambling debts. "Cliche" is French for a stereotype plate in printing; "conjugal" means what many husbands may have suspected—"yoked together." On the other hand, what student would connect "grammar" with "glamor?" Yet word experts know that both derive from an old Scottish word for "magic spell"—centuries ago,

"grammar" conveyed the idea of mysterious lore.

Would you ever guess that "idiot," in the original Greek, simply meant "a man who holds no public office?" Or that "kidding," in its early 19th century meaning, was "to amuse or divert your victim while your accomplice robbed him?" Or, for that matter, that "robe" and "rob" are related words—the idea being that a robber bedecked himself in the spoils stolen from his victim!

Another pair of verbal relatives is "shrew" and "shrewd" (formerly spelled "shrewed"). "Crummy" or "crumby" a scant hundred years ago was a term of high praise—it meant good, handsome, buxom. "Buxom," incidentally, has also changed its meaning drastically—it used to mean "obedient," "pliable" (in its old form the word was "bough-some," i.e. bending like the bough of a tree.)

Some words, however, are always stable. People have been joking about "elbow-grease" since 1672, talking about "the gift of gab" even longer. ("Gab" is a very old Gaelic word for mouth.) And it has always been safe to call the boss, the boss—ever since we borrowed the word from the Dutch "baas," master!

1690 Miles South

Eskimo Boy Scouts Paul, 10; Jimmy, 13; David, 10; and Joapie, 14, set their watches on Jamboree Time. The boys, members of the 1st Resolute Bay Troop, Cornwallis Island, Northwest Territories, flew into RCAF Station Winnipeg at noon Aug. 7 aboard an RCAF scheduled C119. They are here for the first Manitoba and Northwest Ontario Scout Jamboree being held at Island Park exhibition grounds in Portage la Prairie from August 8 to 15. Flight Lieutenant John Challenger, District Scout Commissioner for Bannatyne, greeted the boys on arrival and helped with the watch settings.

"Clem"

Quit hiding your light under a bushel, Clem, you have much to offer, bring it out and use it and the world will welcome you!

P.S. I can't find the specific thing I am looking for in this particular sample of writing, but are you by any chance musical?

"Matilda"

You are a person who thinks things out very carefully, analysing in your mind with mathematical precision, then coming to a firm conclusion.

Pen Points To Personality

EDITOR'S NOTE: Pam is prepared to analyse a sample of your handwriting, without charge, through the office of Voxair. A sample should consist of approximately four lines of writing, in ink, on unlined paper.

By Pam Pawlak

All samples therefore, should be addressed to the Editor, Voxair, RCAF Station Winnipeg, Westwin, Manitoba.

The name of the writer should be enclosed separately and the envelope addressed to "Editor Voxair". Bill Jonson

"BILL JONSON"

Here is a very strong character and a fine one. Note the regular firmness and progression, all strong traits; the slope, many open and rounded connections and terminals, showing sincerity and warmth.

Honest, dependable and sincere, with good reasoning, judgment and a sense of proportion, you are conscientious, neat and efficient in your work.

"Brown Eyes"

You have a fine firm personality, sympathetic, affectionate and loyal, and with a cheerful and optimistic outlook.

"The Shepherd"

You are a well-meaning, friendly person, easy to get along with and kindly. You love to talk, especially about yourself or your own affairs.

"Snoopy"

Well you're a real "eager beaver" aren't you? Always ready to spring forth into a new idea or project just brimming with enthusiasm.

"Shinner"

Your moods change as often as Winnipeg's weather! Sometimes you are friendly and easy-going, sometimes withdrawn.

Real-ized Concern
"Concern in any realm, if it be sincere, always involves responsibility for some institution. If we want better education we must get better schools. If we want better children we must get better homes. If we want better justice we have to have better courts. If we want better civic conditions we must have better government. We may not like this. It brings our ideal wishes down to earth. It plunges us in to difficult problems, burdens us with institutional responsibilities. It is a thousand times easier to say vaguely that we need a revival of genuine Christianity than it is to get down to business and face the problem of where it is coming from. There is only one place it can come from. It must come from the Christian Community, from renewal of life in the churches."

PART I IN A SERIES ON NCAA WRESTLING

RULES & CONDUCT

This information is by no means a thorough summary of the NCAA Wrestling Rules Handbook; however, it is a brief discussion of Intercollegiate Wrestling Rules. This article is intended to give each person enough background to understand wrestling as it presently exists in colleges and high schools throughout the United States. Wrestling is currently America's fastest growing sport and it is important that wrestling be recognized as a highly competitive activity involving a maximum of skill and physical courage.

On an International basis Wrestling is governed by two types of rules: Free-Style and Greco Roman wrestling. Intercollegiate wrestling in the United States is governed by NCAA wrestling rules. NCAA wrestling differs somewhat from International wrestling because of the difference in the rules. It can generally be said that Intercollegiate wrestling is very much similar to Free-Style wrestling because of the similarity of moves and the scoring system.

Regardless of the type of rules used in wrestling, the general objective always remain the same—TO PIN YOUR OPPONENT'S SHOULDERS TO THE MAT. The only variable between Intercollegiate and International rules is the length of time involved in securing the shoulders to the mat. NCAA rules require only 2 seconds. International rules require only a touch of the shoulders to the mat.

LITTLE LEAGUERS

It was once reported that a sports-minded youngster, bat and ball in hand, breathlessly burst into the house one day asking the whereabouts of his dad. "He's already gone down to the Little League field," replied the mother. "You'd better hurry on down before they start."

Since its inception in 1939, Little League baseball has enjoyed a rapid growth in popularity not only with the small-fry, but also with parents.

This fact is confirmed by the annual world championships at Williamsport, Pa., where 10,000 middle-aged adolescents cheer on their offspring and offspring of their friends or relatives.

Canada's baseball crowds are not quite as large but are just as enthusiastic. Our country's Little League finals draw up to 4,000 spectators.

On Sunday, Aug. 16, CBC-TV's World of Sport will present highlights of the 1964 Canadian Little League finals from Valleyfield, Quebec.

The winning team at Valleyfield will then go on to Williamsport to compete against teams from other countries for the world title.

The game, as played by the 8-to-12-year-olds, varies only slightly from the major league brand. The main differences are the smaller playing fields—the bases are only 90 feet apart—and the pitching mound and the outfield fences are closer. Players are not allowed leadoffs when on base.

OLYMPIC COVERAGE

The CBC today announced plans to use the communications satellite Syncom III in its exclusive Canadian coverage of the 1964 Olympic Games from Tokyo, Japan.

The satellite, to be launched in mid-August by NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration), will go into a so-called stationary orbit over the Pacific.

From the opening ceremonies on Oct. 10 though the 2-week span of the games, CBC will package daily, one hour of Olympic programming—30 minutes French, 30 minutes English. The signal will be transmitted from the Kashima Ground Station 50 miles northeast of Tokyo via Syncom III to the Naval Missile Centre at Point Mugu, California.

Videotapes of the transmission will then be flown by jet from Point Mugu to Toronto and Montreal for telecast later the same day.

CBC will also co-operate with EBU, the European Broadcasting Union, to provide European viewers with same-day coverage of the Olympics. The EBU signal will be received at Point Mugu and then moved on a microwave circuit to Montreal where a CBC remote unit at the airport will record it. The videotape will then be flown by Air Canada to Hamburg, Germany.

Arrangements for the satellite operations were worked out by the Communications Satellite Corporation with the co-operation of NASA, the U.S. Defence Department, the Japanese Government and the Japan Broadcasting Corporation.

In the event of any technical difficulties with the operation, CBC will fly the videotapes from Japan to Canada for viewing the next day.

RCMP Series On CBC TV

A television series which tells the real story of Canada's Royal Canadian Mounted Police, began on CBC television Monday, Aug. 10 at 4 p.m. EDT and will be seen each week-day for 24 episodes until Sept. 11. It is the only television series to be made about the mounties with the co-operation of the force itself.

The three co-stars are Gilles Pelletier, John Perkins and Don Francks. They form a three-man detachment at Shamatawa, a fictional town of 4,000 in Northern Saskatchewan.

Not all the episodes deal with crime. The series attempts to give a picture of the day-to-day activities of the mounties. It was originally seen on CBC-TV in 1960.

FLAG FOOTBALL

Flag Football is in the air, and with the Western and Eastern professional football interest should be getting in line for the station league. Although there is a great deal of difference between Flag and regular, the tactics are similar. It is anticipated that at least four teams will form a league, and two games a week scheduled.

Until such time as we hear more about the Stn league, we hope that personnel interested in forming a league attend the meetings and help out in the officiating.

CLUB 61

By H. R. CHIASSON

Those 4 smiling faces you see above represent the men who keep our club moving. These gentlemen go about their task in a very pleasant manner and I sometimes find they are so pleasing that I come back time and time again, just to be surrounded by such pleasantry. All kidding aside we're quite proud of our bar staff here at Club 61 and they certainly deserve a tip of the hat.

Anyone who happened to have the good fortune to be at the Mess Saturday night 1 Aug was very much surprised by the talent of Aussie Ausland and his Jet Airs. The boys kept everyone on their toes throughout the evening of enjoyable listening and dancing.

Sunday night, 2 Aug it was Larry and Reisa and a brief performance by Gordie Storey. Larry (alias The Beatles) kept an appreciative crowd laughing and dancing through one of the best Sunday nights the mess has seen in some time.

Have you signed for Monkey Golf yet??? Best you do so right away before you're counted among the missing on this laugh date. The way things are shaping up it's going to be even bigger and better than originally planned.

Lets have more stags! The mess on Friday 8 Aug was packed to capacity as the Mess was the scene of the Best attended Stag so far this season. The cheese and crackers were appreciated by all, and in the future we hope to have this side dish accompanying all our Stags.

Sat Aug 9 was a carry over from Friday night as Larry and Reisa kept an appreciative crowd on the move throughout the evening. It looks like the attendance is really on the upswing so I suggest you make plans to get in on all the fun starting Saturday night when Larry and Reisa at popular demand will be making a return engagement to your Club.

Chuck McDonald returns to the grind after seven days in the sun. Rumour has it that Bud Rankin spent most of his time under a tree when it unfortunately fell across his tent. Chuck Charlebois takes 14 on the grass so the Club is without a V/PMC for two weeks, however Chuck has been working hard and we hope he has the time of his life.

Well Gang, now that we all have our calendars for this month there is no excuse to miss the fine entertainment and surprises your club holds in store for you. That's 30 for this week—but remember, its nice to be important but its important to be nice.

"Pay no attention to what the critics say; there has never been a statue set up in honor of a critic," said Jean Sibelius, the Finnish composer.

BLOOD DONOR CLINIC

The Semi-annual visit of the Canadian Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic was held at Stn Winnipeg on 6 Aug 64. A total of 263 bottle of blood were donated by station personnel. When considering the number of personnel on leave and temporary duty during August, the number of volunteers who turned out for the clinic was above all expectations.

A special vote of thank you is extended to the ladies of the Catholic Women's League and the Protestant Ladies' Guild for their help in manning the clinic; also to Mrs. D. Hudson for organizing the canvassing of dependents and the baby sitting service at the clinic; and finally to the section canvassers who through their efforts made the clinic the success that it was.

WANTED

An Advertising Saleswoman for Voxair

Voxair has an opening for an advertising saleswoman. Our advertising sales are suffering because service personnel are unable to give adequate time, during business hours, to service old accounts and drum up new ones, and we want someone who is free, during the day, to sell advertising space.

She MUST be an adult dependant, accessible by phone, who drives a car. She MUST be pleasant, well-dressed, personable and dependable. She MUST be capable of accepting simple instruction in elementary bookkeeping and billing. She MUST have time on her hands which she is willing to turn into CASH.

To start her off we will feed her old reliable accounts which require only an occasional phone call — but she will have to show an ability to bring and service new accounts. Earnings can be expected to build to between $80 and $100 per month, this is not a sales pitch, this is a fact, but it requires a lot of time and patience.

Applicants should contact the Editor at Local 695 or leave their number at 337.
